The Making of the U.S. - Israeli Relationship
Hist.385, 12:50-1:40 MWF Fall 2008

Instructor: Dr. David Tal
Email: dtal@emory.edu
Office Hours: By appointment
Phone Number: 404-7275789

The course will deal with the buildup and development of the Israeli-American relationship from the 1940s to the present. It will be based on lectures and discussion of articles: two meetings in a week will be lectures, and the in the third we will discuss an article(s) relevant to the week's topic. I expect you all to be ready with the articles, and to be ready with the week's reading. All the material under “discussion in class” will be on the course blackboard’s site. The reading material will be reserved in the library.

There will be three assignments throughout the semester: book report, a no-more than five-page paper and a no-more than fifteen-page paper. The book report will be on any book that is relevant to the course. The topic of the papers will be decided by the student, in consultation with me- the papers should deal with separate topics, although the second can relate to the first-it can deal with the next time frame or issue. In any case, you must conclude the topic with me.

Deadlines:
- Book report: October 15.
- First paper: November 10.
- Second (and final) paper: December 10.

Week 1- Orientation

The Framework
The United States and Israel

Reading:

Discussion in Class

Israel and the United States

Reading:

Israel Studies, Vol. 5 No. 2.

Discussion in Class

Week 2- Israel’s National Security and Foreign Policy

Reading:

Discussion in Class

Week 3- The United States in the Middle East

Reading:

Discussion in Class

Week 4- Truman and Israel (1)- from the Yom Kippur Address to Recognition in Israel

Reading:

Truman and Israel (2)- In Pursuit of Security

Reading:

Hahn, Caught in the Middle East, pp. 67-143.
Discussion in Class

Week 5- “Friendly Impartiality” (1953-1958)
Reading:

Discussion in Class

Week 6- The Changing Strategic Climate (1958-1961)
Reading:

Discussion in Class

Week 7- “Special Relations” (?), 1961-1963
Reading:

Discussion in Class

Reading:

Discussion in Class

Week 9- In the Height (and heat) of the Cold War, 1969-1976
Reading:

Discussion in Class

Week 10- The Carter administration

Reading:

Reich, The United States and Israel pp. 41-85.

Discussion in Class

Quandt, Peace Process, pp. 177-204.

Week 12- From the First War in Lebanon to the Madrid Conference

Reading:

Reich, The United States and Israel pp. 87-175.

Discussion in Class

Week 13- In the Shadow of the Oslo Accords

Reading:

Discussion in Class

Week 14- What Can We Say About US-Israel Relations?

Discussion in Class

The Framework The United States and Israel Reading: Elizabeth Stephens, US Policy Towards Israel: The Role Of Political Culture In Defining the. 'Special Relationship', Portland: Sussex Academic Press, 2006. Discussion in Class Elizabeth C. Hoffman, "Diplomatic History and the Meaning of Life: Toward a Global American. History," Diplomatic History, Vol. 21, No. 4 (Fall, 1997), pp. 499-518. Eric Crouse, "Under the Radar: Bible Prophecy, U.S. Foreign Policy, and the Arab-Israeli. Discussion in Class Little, Douglas, "The Making of a Special Relationship: The United States and Israel, 1957-68," International Journal of Middle East Studies, Vol. 25, No. 4 (1993): 563-585. Week 9- In the Height (and heat) of the Cold War, 1969-1976 Reading Foreign Relations of the United States. Previous Administration Archives. Directories. The United States is committed to supporting the parties in efforts to reach a lasting, comprehensive peace agreement that offers a brighter future to both Israel and the Palestinians. U.S. Assistance to Israel. The U.S.-Israel bilateral relationship is strong, anchored by over $3 billion in Foreign Military Financing annually. In addition to financial support, the U.S. participates in a high level of exchanges with Israel, to include joint military exercises, military research, and weapons development. Through the Joint Counterterrorism Group and a semi-annual Strategic Dialogue, the U.S. and Israel and the US are currently negotiating a memorandum of understanding that will help determine the next decade of US military assistance to the country. Earlier this month, The Wall Street Journal reported that Obama wants to take one more shot at advancing the Israeli-Palestinian peace process before he leaves office, an effort that The Journal reported could include the US endorsement of a UN Security Council resolution outlining a final-status outcome to the conflict. "And it is so bizarre as to leave even veteran analysts of the often-fraught bilateral relationship flabbergasted." Israeli soldiers walk toward the border with Syria, near the Druze village of Majdal Shams in the Israeli-controlled side of the Golan Heights, on February 18. Baz Ratner/Reuters.